

What couples say about Relationship Coaching

We took part in the four premarital coaching sessions and they were amazing! He took the time to know us on a personal level, individually and as a couple. He truly cared about making our marriage work even after the wedding day. Most importantly, he gives very sound advice and helped us to start our marriage on a solid foundation.

Joan and Chris, Gainesville, FL

If anyone is on the fence about signing up for the coaching sessions, absolutely go for it! They were so helpful and enlightening for us as a couple.

Alison and Michael, St. Petersburg, FL

I definitely recommend the coaching sessions. Michael is easy to talk with and brings to light any situations/decision-making you may have in the future, that you most likely are not thinking about or discussing now.

Christian and Jared, Apollo Beach, FL

Our premarital time with Michael opened us to a stronger relationship and better communication which I'm certain will lay the foundation for an unbreakable lifelong partnership.

Brittany and James, Charleston, SC

What places him many steps beyond the average officiant, is that he possesses a set of intangibles that are more easily felt than described. In short, he listens, he is engaged, and he gives poignant advice that conveys a deep, spiritual profundity that very few possess. There is genuine wisdom to be found here. Perhaps the best advice I have is that you should absolutely consider his relationship coaching. As a person who participated in this, I am here to tell you that it is worth it. I have the utmost respect for Reverend DeArruda. He is simply the best.

Ali-Jae and Brandon, Washington, DC, and San Francisco

We found the relationship assessment so helpful that we actually engaged Michael for all the coaching sessions. He helped my husband and I identify our strengths as well as what we can do to strengthen our areas of weakness. The comfort that we developed with him was so strong that we felt as though he was a lifelong confidant, and not someone we'd met just a few short months before (and only once in person).

Kerri and Scott, Chicago

DeArruda
WEDDINGS + MARRIAGE